Event medical CQC readiness checklist

From 6 December 2027, providing TDDI at an event without CQC registration is an offence. Complete applications received by 1 March 2027 should be decided in time. Use this checklist to see how ready you are.

Scope

Check	Done / in progress / not started	Notes, owner and date
You have written down, service by service, whether you provide genuine first aid or treatment of disease, disorder or injury (TDDI).
You know whether any booked paramedic, nurse or doctor uses their professional skills or judgement at your events.
You know whether you take anyone beyond the event boundary, which needs transport services, triage and medical advice provided remotely.
Where your case is not clear, you have asked CQC's events team and kept their answer.

The provider

Check	Done / in progress / not started	Notes, owner and date
You have decided which legal entity will register (the healthcare provider, never the event).
A registered manager and a nominated individual are appointed, and both understand their roles.
If you hold controlled drugs, you have applied for the Home Office licence (allow at least six months).

Documents

Check	Done / in progress / not started	Notes, owner and date
Your statement of purpose describes the service you actually run: regulated activities, service types, the people you serve, the events you cover and your registered location.
Your policies match how the service really works, including safeguarding, medicines, consent, incidents, complaints and infection control.
You have a written method for deciding the level of cover for each event, and keep a risk assessment for each one.

People

Check	Done / in progress / not started	Notes, owner and date
Recruitment files hold the required checks for every clinician, including an enhanced DBS check, references and professional registration.
Training, competency and supervision records are up to date for every role you deploy.
Clinical governance is in place: audits, incident review, and learning that you can show.

Application

Check	Done / in progress / not started	Notes, owner and date

Your application, statement of purpose and policies tell the same story.
You have practised the registration interview.
You plan to submit a complete application well before 1 March 2027.

Not sure if you are in scope? Assure Advisory offers a free 30-minute call: eviqa.health/advisory/event-healthcare-cqc-registration